Summary

- i. The Constitution Review Committee was tasked by Council to review the Constitution of the Council and make recommendations. This was hoped to be available for this annual meeting but it was decided that an update should come to this meeting, with a view to the draft constitution being considered by Council in July 2023.
- ii. As a consequence of the lack of information as to the arrangements for committees, sub-committees, panels, scrutiny panels and Cabinet arrangements, no proposals can be made at this point in relation to the scheme of delegations. Accordingly, Council is invited to confirm the existing delegations, in anticipation of a comprehensive review of the same being presented to Council in July 2023.

Recommendations

1. Council is invited to confirm the existing scheme of delegations as set out within Part 3 of the Constitution,.

Reasons for Recommendations

- iii. It is a statutory requirement that the Council review and confirm the scheme of delegations.
